

Principal's Report

1. Technology

- a. We have partnered with Niche.com, which is the leading school promoting website, to create a premium profile for our school. This will allow us to design the profile ourselves, push our social media posts to the profile, as well as increase our web presence via targeted advertisements to families that are looking for schools in the area. It also ensures our school's profile will show up on competing school's profiles.
- b. The office manager and I attended trainings over the past months to create an online application form for prospective families, so that we can start accepting applications online in addition to the traditional paper packets.
